

First-person Account Editing Procedure

The procedure below is based on Shani Raja's deep editing procedure, described at: <https://www.linkedin.com/learning/editing-mastery-how-to-edit-writing-to-perfection/what-is-deep-editing-2>.

1. Break each sentence into individual points.
2. Reorganise paragraphs so that each line has a unique point.
3. Does every point make sense? If unsure about a point, consult the author to make sure it makes sense.
4. Align each sentence by point – to avoid repetition, where the same point has been made. Convert the point to a single sentence, whilst retaining the author's voice.
5. Is there any clutter? – If details in the text don't make sense, e.g. unneeded quotations or hyphens, tidy up the text.
6. Does it read well? – Re-read and adjust to make sure that sentences read well with good flow.
7. Paper edits – any edits made whilst writing the thesis or research paper (e.g. to meet word counts) as part of the typical process.
